

Leading for Change

A targeted development programme for people leaders.

Today organisations are constantly responding to the dynamic environments in which they operate. Whether related to innovation, technology, market, customer or employee experiences and expectations, change initiatives should be managed in a way that realises objectives and recognises how best to engage people through change.

Why invest?

With the Leading for Change Programme, managers will have the skills, resources and confidence to champion change.

- Understand the impact of change on individuals and teams
- · Recognise what influences our response to change
- Recognise the leader's role in change
- · Apply an effective change model to engage others
- Have confidence to lead change conversations
- Effectively coach for buy-in and commitment
- · Create a change engagement plan that achieves objectives

Programme Outline

This programme can be configured for virtual facilitation with resources provided before and after workshops. Most importantly, design and delivery is aligned to specific client context and objectives. Group, peer and 1:1 coaching supports development and activation.

Outcomes

Enable leaders to lead change in a way that others can:

• Understand the change:

They know what the change is, why it is happening and what the impact is for individuals, teams and the organisation

• Support the change:

The change is lead in a way that people are supportive and actively participate

 Implement the change: People have the know-how, skills, resources, support, coaching and capacity to execute the change
